

Matthew J. Dujnic

matt@duj.org
www.duj.org
gamegrump.com

636 Warren St. #4L
Brooklyn, NY 11217
(646) 226 9377

Implementation Director, Partsearch Technologies (July 2002 to Present)

- Provided Web-based parts & accessories solutions for Best Buy, Circuit City, Amazon, RadioShack, more.
- Built and enforced a new company process to handle over 300 simultaneous projects.
- Designed and coded a custom application to track all projects: e-commerce, call center, business development.
- Managed Web development, corporate branding, and printed-based marketing for company and clients.
- Designed & built “Whistler,” a parts-research tool used by Best Buy technicians nationwide.
- Extensive writing: technical specifications, user guides, documentation, corporate and marketing copy.
- Managed the design and rollout of Sharepoint-based Intranet.
- Established offshore programming & data-entry initiatives.

Freelancer (September 2000 to Present)

- Founder and Editor: Game Grump, www.gamegrump.com.
- Illustrator: Student Traveler Magazine.
- Perl Programmer: Hearst Interactive Studios, FCBi, other clients.
- Ensemble Performer & Web Developer: Movieoke, www.movieoke.net.
- Contributing Photographer: Blender, Entertainment Weekly.

Console Game Reviewer, Adrenaline Vault (2002)

- Wrote dozens of columns, previews, and reviews - including on-site E3 coverage in 2002.
- Selected excerpts archived at: www.rottentomatoes.com/gauthor-6921/. Complete pieces available upon request.

Director of Technology, Tribal DDB (December 1999 to September 2000)

- Built tech team in DDB's flagship office; established Quality Assurance dept.
- Programmed extensively in Perl, HTML & JavaScript.

Software Developer, CondeNet / Conde Nast (May 1999 to December 1999)

- Built Web applications for vogue.com, epicurious.com, swoon.com, others.

Software Engineer, Modem Media. (December 1996 to May 1999)

- Helmed construction of Web sites for Hasbro Interactive, Dow Chemical, others.
- Flew out as company representative & technical consultant on client business trips.

Webmaster & Project Manager, IDTcorp. (1996)

Skills

- Excellence in Web development: Visual Studio .NET, Perl, HTML, Adobe Creative Suite.
- Well-versed in: Microsoft Project, Office, VSS, Bugzilla, Apache & IIS configuration, Linux, Windows, OS X.
- Experience with: Sharepoint, Macromedia Flash, Test Track Pro, SQL, and more.
- Digital video entertainment: producing, writing, editing, Web optimization and DVD authoring.
- Professional illustrator, and cartoonist. Portfolio pieces at www.duj.org.
- Trained actor, emcee, public speaker.

Education

- Johns Hopkins University: BA, Writing Seminars, 1996. Minor: Computer Science.